Suncor Energy thanks Canadians for supporting Alberta flood relief

Canadians donate more than 70 million Petro-Points: Suncor Energy matching Petro-Points donations until July 14

Calgary, Alberta (July 12, 2013) – Suncor Energy is thanking Canadians who have donated more than 70 million Petro-Points to the Canadian Red Cross – Alberta Floods Fund. The Petro-Points matching program is part of the $1.5 million flood-relief program announced by Suncor which also included donations to the Calgary Foundation, the United Way Emergency Fund and the Bridges Foundation.

Through the program, Canadians have given more than $70,000 which will be matched by Petro-Canada, a Suncor Energy business, until July 14. Canadians can continue to contribute Petro-Points to the Canadian Red Cross – Alberta Floods Fund until July 31 by visiting www.petro-canada.ca.

“The outpouring of support and generosity from coast to coast demonstrates the true spirit of Canadians,” said Steve Williams, Suncor president and chief executive officer. “We developed a comprehensive flood-relief program that is delivering dollars to organizations that have expertise in getting funds to those who need it the most.”

Suncor’s flood-relief program focused on providing support in four areas: the immediate response, re-entry programs, recovery activity and rebuilding efforts. The funding and program has been administered through the Suncor Energy Foundation (SEF). Suncor, through SEF, will continue to support Alberta flood relief efforts.

Canadians supported a number of Suncor matching programs, including:

- Red Cross – Alberta Floods Fund: Suncor employees and retiree donations have exceeded $100,000, with Suncor matching donations.

- The Calgary Foundation – Flood Rebuilding Fund: individual donations to the Calgary Foundation, with Suncor matching $150,000.

- The Calgary Arts Foundation: individual donations to the Calgary Arts Foundation, with Suncor matching $50,000.

In the spirit of Canadians supporting Canadians, Suncor will be contributing to the Red Cross – Lac-Mégantic Support Fund and opening the Petro-Points Red Cross donation program early next week.

Suncor Energy and the Suncor Energy Foundation (SEF) have a proud history helping build sustainable communities through collaborative partnerships that enhance the quality of life in key operating areas.
